DETAILED ACTION

Amendment

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the amendment filed on June 13, 2003. In the amendment,
5 claim 5 was canceled, and claim 4 was amended. Currently, claims 1-4 remain for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

10 A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an
15 international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wada et al. (US
6,602,734).

20 Wada teaches a method of manufacturing semiconductor device (see abstract) such as BGA (ball grid array) type device, LGA (land grid array and mini-cards (col. 7, lines 50-56) comprising steps of providing a base substrate including a plurality of individual substrates connected together as shown in figures 1 and 2; mounting a semiconductor chips 12 on the substrate (see figure 8; col. 5, lines 45+); covering the substrate with upper layer 14, 15a (see 25 figures 10 and 11; col. 5, lines 63+); and cutting the substrate producing a plurality of individual semiconductor pieces 20 (see figure 14; col. 6, lines 34+).

Response to Arguments

4. The Applicant's amendment and argument filed on June 13, 2003 have been carefully reviewed.

In responding to the Applicant's argument, it is the Examiner's opinion that previous 5 Office Action citing the Kim patent and the Ferguson patent still read on the claimed invention. The Examiner also considers that such modification (Kim in view of Ferguson) would have been obviously contemplated by one ordinary skill in the art. However, upon further search, a new reference is cited because the embodiment disclosed in the new reference appears to be more similar to what is claimed in instant application. Examiner notes that the Applicant did not 10 change the claims in the outstanding amendment to warrant updated search and consideration. Accordingly, this Office Action is made non-final.

Conclusion

I. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's 15 disclosure: Wada (JP 2001156217) disclose mini-cards and the method for making mini-cards.
